Maconomy successfully acquired by Deltek

Deltek, Inc. (Nasdaq: PROJ), the leading provider of enterprise applications software and solutions for project-focused businesses, today announced that it has successfully completed its tender offer to acquire the European ERP provider Maconomy A/S (Nasdaq OMX: MACO). The new, combined company is the undisputed market-leader offering enterprise applications to professional services firms around the globe.

As a result, Deltek is acquiring approximately 94% of Maconomy's outstanding shares in connection with the tender offer. An all cash payment for shares that were tendered will be made promptly in accordance with the terms of the tender offer at the offer price of DKK 20.50 per share, or approximately $3.40 per share. Deltek expects to initiate a mandatory redemption under Danish law to acquire the remaining outstanding shares in the coming weeks.

Deltek and Maconomy are an excellent strategic fit, and the combination pairs two best-in-class companies that are leaders in their respective markets. The combined company has unmatched domain expertise in the professional services market with close to 13,000 customers worldwide. The new organization has immense geographic reach across the world and serves all major segments within the professional services vertical market, including architecture & engineering, advertising, public relations, accounting, management and IT consulting, and legal. The combined organization has a prominent market position and has an unmatched list of project-based customers, including:

- 80% of the Engineering News Record Top 500 Design Firms
- Approximately 80% of the 2009 ZweigWhite Top 200 fastest-growing architecture, engineering and environmental consulting firms
- Four of the five largest Global Accounting and Consulting firms
- The world's three largest Marketing Communications Networks
- Approximately 90% of the Top U.S. Federal Contractors

We are thrilled to be part of Deltek," says Hugo Dorph, CEO of Maconomy. "Deltek and Maconomy are a great synergistic fit, and for years we have both been focused on improving business performance for project-focused organizations around the world with specialized solutions and technology. Now, Maconomy is aligned with an organization that can accelerate our growth objectives and introduce our innovative solutions to more customers. I look forward to working with the entire Deltek team as we work together as one organization to deliver world-class solutions to leading professional services firms around the globe."

“On behalf of the entire Deltek organization, I want to welcome the Maconomy customers and employees into the Deltek family,” says Kevin Parker, President and CEO of Deltek. “Acquiring Maconomy is a game-changing move for our organization in many ways. It greatly extends our reach into Europe, broadens our portfolio of solutions to additional professional services segments, and adds new cutting-edge resource management capabilities that are applicable across the entire Deltek customer base – including government contracting. With more than 45 years of combined research and development in our software solutions and decades of knowledge obtained from powering the world’s most dynamic professional services firms, our new organization stands alone in the marketplace as the true global enterprise applications leader serving project-focused businesses.”
